Or Several Night Schools in Operation This Year?

DISCUSSED BY THE COMMITTEE

Of the Board of Education, But No Conclusion Reached-Hoodlums Cause Trouble in Night Schools.

Register today. The matter of night echools, at this time of year, is a subject which the members of the board of education have seriously to consider. Last night the committee on schools held a session. At least four members of the committee were present, and discussed the night school problem. A majority of those present were in favor of opening but one school in the city. Others thought school should be opened in various parts of the suburbs. If but at Byron center tomorrow evening. one school is opened it will be located, probably, in the ungraded room in the North Division street building. A young man who works in a shop on the west side until 6 o'clock and has to go to the corner of Hall and East streets or even farther for his supper will find it difficult to reach school at 7 o'clock, the hour set for opening the sessions if he were orced to attend a school on North Division street. The main objection argued against the night schools is the fact that a rough class of boys attend, who destroy the books, steal the pen cals and top over the ink of the day pupils. Last year considerable damage was done to some of the schools in the Those who favor the establishment of suburban night schools say it would be better to maintain them, even if it were found necessary to place a special policeman to protect the property. Tomorrow evening the board of education will hold its November session, and some action will be taken. The committee has not yet prepared the report which it will submit. After the committee on schools adjourned last night the committee on teachers held a long session. The rewas informed that he was a good fel-

The Truthful Test

It requires no learned experts or scientific experiments to establish the fact that OR. PRICE'S DELICIOUS FLAVORING EX-TRACTS are not only the strongest, but positively the sweetest and most delicate fruit flavors. If housewives will flavor a cake, pudding, custard or cream with Dr. Price's Extract of Vanilla, Lemon or Orange, and a smaller quantity gives a more natural and grateful taste than can be imparted by any other Extracts, is it not an incontestable proof of their greater excellence? In every case where Dr. Price's Flavors are used they give perfect satisfaction.

ELECTROMATHEANS MEET.

Two Discussions Upon the Subjects of Dynamos and Motors.

The electric motor was the subject discussed before the electromathean society last night. Burton Livingston opened the discussion and during his talk on that subject said: "The dynamo-electric machine is a machine for converting energy in the form of mechanical power into energy in the form of electric currents or vice versa. These machines are of two classes-These machines are of two classes—motors and dynamos. There has been great advancement in these machines during the last sixty-five years. In 1831 Faraday made his great discovery of the system by which currents may be induced. In looking back over the history of electric machines it is interesting to notice that electric machines were devised at nearly the same time and by men who did not know each other. A permanent current was produced by the use of the copper plate and electric magnet.

A history of the dynamo was given a length as the motor depends wholly upon that machine. The first time the generator was used to produce a current to run the motor was in 1873. to run o car, but it was not practical. Engene Palmer proceeded with the subject explaining the mode of gener ating power. The cost of running a motor is much less than a steam engine of the same power. It requires much less skill to operate an electric motor than to run a steam engine. The common horse shoe magnet was used to demonstrate the line of force and a miniature motor was operated by the negative and positive forces of the magnet. Mr. Edison has proven that a good dynamo can make a good motor. A motor is a dynamo reversed. The best work is produced by a motor when it is run at its maximum efficiency or force and this is regulated by winding field magnets.

POVERTY SOCIAL

A Unique Social Affair at the Calvary Baptist Church. The old saying that "the poor have lots of children, and they're always noisy," was amply proved at the poverty social given by the Aid society of the Calvary church last evening. If all the persons who were present were poverty stricken, it is also true that the poor are always with us.

About 100 couldren were present and twice as many older paupers. All were a look at them would make one believe that unlimited coinage of silver w uld be about the proper thing. The costumes consisted of calico "wash day" dresses and blue aprons. A glance at the bill of fare made one's mind go back to "the way we used to live in the forties."

The menu was written on brown wrapping paper and was as follows:

Fenn Soup.
Boiled Dinner.
Baked Beans, usb nd Milk.
Ginger Case, Fis.

After the "poverty stricken" crowd make a tramp blush and settled down to pick their teeth with the forks, the following program was rendered: Mertie Tinterman

MAD WILBUR CHORUS GIRLS. Three of Them Cowhide a Comic Opera

For some weeks Dorothy Morton has been filling Susse Kirwin's place in the Wilbur Opera troups and when in this city two weeks ago she attracted no little attention by her clever work at the Grand. The company went from here to Cincinatti. There has been much trouble in the company, prinfemale impersonator, whose extravagant "gags" gave oflense to many here.
On last Saturday Miss Morton threw up

They found her at Hencke' theater, where she and her husband, Mr. Rowe, have apartments. M'as Morton was passing out of the theater door and

"Hello girls," said she, pleasantly.
"I'm glad to see you. Did you see the

"No, we came over to see you," re-plied Miss Lyons, an before another word could be spoken hiss Lyons pulled a rawhide and began raining blows on Miss Morton. Mr. Rowe heard her screams and rushed from the box office in time to see the girls going at a Nancy Hanks gait down Vine street. Meanwhile Miss Morton had swooned away from the pain, and her husband carried her to her room upstairs. She suffered greatly from nervous prostration and the stinging

GREAT AT THE FINISH. John Splan's Skill in Handling Trotting

Horses. John Splan is considered to be the most skillful trotting horse driver in America, that is, he can make a horse go faster in a close finish than any of the other noted reinsmen. His seat in the sulky is simply perfection. With hands just right and arms in position to take back or ease away in the frac-tion of an instant, he fits most any kind of horse, taking them with a characteristic dash. At no time in his career did he ever drive a better finish than at a recent meeting when he chased El Monarch home second chased El Monarch home second to Robert J. The old roan gelding wanted to rest when he hit the distance flag. The clip was faster than he had been used to, in fact faster than he had ever shown. The wire was still 100 yards off and the money was there for the placed usags. Gathering El Monarch us think hitsel but he was still the distance of the placed usags. ing El Monarch up Spian lifted him through the air in a style that made one think that he was wiggling on the end of a derrick, hit him a couple of smashes with the whip to chase that tired feeling out of his head and shoved him home in a second place.

All the flourish, dash and boldness that the flourish dash and boldness that the flourish is the flourish of the flourish and boldness that the flourish is the flourish of the flourish is the flourish of th that can be seen in any finish was dis-played then. There was none of the Goldsmith climbing or winding that characterized Wagner, none of the stiffness seen in a Turner finish, or recklessness seen in Bowen's, but there was a steady get there, get there quick in a straight line, and at the same time make no mistake.—Detroit News.
